The customer is responsible for the returned merchandise until it is received by our warehouse staff.

Items received as damaged or defective, along with other discrepancies, such as missing parts, must be reported to sales@robinsonlighting.com or any of the branches within 14 days after purchase.

Many of our vendors have help phone lines you can call where they will help troubleshoot any issues you are facing and determine if the product should be replaced. The branch can test the product in-store as well if needed.
